Disposable biodegradable plates made from cellulose pulp

Disposable biodegradable plates made from cellulose pulp

The use of biodegradable plates respects the environment and makes tableware collection even easier. Food waste and plates as well can be disposed in the organic waste compartment and be used to produce fertile compost.

Greenway plates are made from "Ok Compost" certified raw materials, ensuring their conformity to the European norms concerning biodegradable packaging issued in 2002 (EN 13432 Directive).

Heat-resistant up to 225°C / 437°F, they can be used in traditional ovens and microwaves.

Cold-resistant down to -25°C / -13°F, they can be used in fridges and freezers.

Water-resistant, PLA tableware can contain both hot and cold liquid foods.
